DEFENDANTS' JOINT OPPOSITION TO PLAINTIFF'S MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE

TO THE HONORABLE UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE ROBERT L. PITMAN:

COME NOW Defendants, the Commission for Lawyer Discipline ("CFLD"), Seana Willing ("Willing"), John S. Brannon ("Brannon"), Daniela Grosz ("Grosz") and Daniel Martinez ("Martinez") (collectively "Defendants"), and file this Opposition to Turnbull's Motion for Leave to File [Surrespose]. In support thereof, Defendants offer the following:

I. BACKGROUND

PLEADING/ACTION	CFLD/WILLING	GROSZ & MARTINEZ	BRANNON
-----------------	--------------	------------------	---------

<sup>1</sup> Turnbull incorrectly uses the term reply and/or sur-reply in his pleading in seeking to file a responsive pleading to Defendants' replies to Turnbull's response to Defendant's motions to dismiss. A "surrespose" is a "second response by someone who opposes a motion." BLACK'S LAW DICTIONARY (10th ed. 2014). Therefore, Defendants correctly use "surrespose" to refer to the pleading Turnbull's attempts to file.

This Opposition to Turnbull's Motion for Leave to File [Surreponse] is timely filed.

II. ARGUMENTS AND AUTHORITIES

The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure do not provide for a right to file a surresponse. See generally Fed. R. C. P. 7, 12. “A party may file a reply in support of a motion. Absent leave of court, no further submissions on the motion are allowed.” W.D. Tex. Local Rule CV 7(e)(1). Thus, because neither the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure nor the Western District's Local Rules provide for a right to file a surresponse, such filings “are highly disfavored, as they usually are a strategic effort by the nonmovant to have the last word on a matter.” BHL Boresight, Inc. v. Geo-Steering Sols., Inc., No. 4:15-CV-00627, 2017 WL 3634215, at *2 (S.D. Tex. Aug. 24, 2017) (quoting Weaver v. Celebration Station Props., Inc., No. H-14-2233, 2015 WL 1932030, at *3 (S.D. Tex. Apr. 28, 2015)).

Leave to file a surresponse may be granted “in extraordinary circumstances ‘on a showing of good cause.’” Mission Toxicology, LLC v. United Healthcare Ins. Co., 499 F. Supp. 3d 350, 359 (W.D. Tex. 2020) (citing Layne Christensen Co. v. Bro-Tech Corp., No. CIV.A. 09-2381-JWL, 2011 WL 3880830, at 1 n.1 (D. Kan. Aug. 31, 2011)). When a motion for leave to file a surreponse is granted, the surreponse is “limited to addressing only new arguments raised for the first time by the opposing party in their reply briefing and not included in the original motion.” Branch v. CEMEX, Inc., No. H-11-1953, 2012 WL 2357280, at *9 (S.D. Tex. June 20, 2012), aff’d, 517 F. App’x 276 (5th Cir. 2013) (quoting Marbury Law Grp., PLLC v. Carl, 729 F. Supp. 2d 78, 83 (D.D.C. 2010)).

Here, Plaintiff’s Motion for Leave to File a [Surreponse] should be denied for two reasons. First, Turnbull’s motion is totally devoid of any citation to any authority that would support his motion. Second, and more importantly, Turnbull makes no “good cause” argument nor claims there exists any exceptional circumstance that would warrant granting his motion. Indeed, Turnbull is merely attempting to “have the last word” while not addressing any new arguments.

Specifically, Turnbull asserts that in Defendants’ pleadings they made “factual assertions . . . regarding the similarly situated nature of the Paxton/Powell/Webster Grievances” for the first time in their respective replies to his response to each of their dismissal motions. [Dkt. #44, ¶4.] However, such representation is not accurate.

Turnbull set forth in his Plaintiff’s Original Complaint (filed on March 22, 2023), that his alleged Complaints against the Microsoft Attorneys were treated differently than those filed in relation to the current pending district court Disciplinary Actions against Kenneth Warren Paxton, Brent Webster, and Sydney Powell. [Dkt. #1, ¶¶75, 77_.] He also expressed his belief that his alleged Complaints set forth the “exact same professional misconduct” as alleged against Paxton, Webster, and Powell. [Dkt. #1, ¶77.] Further, Turnbull made this same argument in his First Amended Complaint filed on May 25, 2023. [Dkt. #20, ¶83.]

In the dismissal motions that Turnbull references, Defendants argued that Turnbull was “clearly wrong,” and/or “demonstratively wrong,” in his representations to this court “as evidenced by the district court’s record in each of the Disciplinary Action he (has) referenced.”<sup>2</sup> See Dkt. # 10, p. 15 (CFLD/Willing); Dkt. # 15, p. 14 (Brannon); Dkt. #22, p. 16 (CFLD/Willing); Dkt. #29, p. 15 (Brannon). Defendants even cited the Disciplinary Actions he referenced in footnotes. See Dkt. # 10, p. 15 (CFLD/Willing); Dkt. # 15, p. 14 (Brannon); Dkt. #22, p. 16 (CFLD/Willing); Dkt. #29, p. 15 (Brannon). Irrespective, Turnbull’s response to Defendants’ dismissal motions did not address Defendants’ argument. Instead, Turnbull only reasserted his belief that his alleged Complaints against the Microsoft Attorneys set forth the “exact same alleged conduct” as the grievances received by the Chief Disciplinary Counsel’s (CDC) office in Paxton, Webster, and Powell. See Dkt. #33, p. 14 (CFLD/Willing); Dkt. #37, p. 12 (Brannon); Dkt. #34, p. 14 (Grosz/Martinez).

Turnbull has had plenty of opportunity over the past three months to make more than conclusory statements regarding his claim that his alleged Complaints against the Microsoft Attorneys set forth the “exact same” conduct as the Disciplinary Actions he referenced within his: 1) thirty-two-page Original Complaint; 2) thirty-seven page First Amended Complaint; and 3) his twenty-page responses to each of the Defendants’ dismissal motions. To date, Turnbull has failed to do so.

Turnbull’s erroneous belief that the basis of his alleged Complaints against the Microsoft Attorneys are the same as in Paxton, Webster, and Powell is irrelevant to his argument that Defendant Willing violated his rights by determining his alleged Complaints should be presented

<sup>2</sup> Although Grosz and Martinez did not address Turnbull’s assertions regarding the alleged “exact same” conduct or allegations in their motions to dismiss, other CDC employee/defendants did argue against Turnbull’s claims. Further, Turnbull again raised the issue in his Response to Grosz and Martinez’s Motion to Dismiss. Because he raised the issue and because other defendants have argued against his assertions, Turnbull cannot claim he had no notice of Grosz and Martinez’s position on the issue or that he was surprised by any statements in their reply to Turnbull’s response to their dismissal motion.

to a Summary Disposition Panel. That is because, as Turnbull has already pointed out in Plaintiff's Response to First Amended Motion to Dismiss by Commission for Lawyer Discipline and Seana Willing, Defendant Willing's decision was not only based on Turnbull's assertions in his alleged Complaints, but what Willing learned in her investigation of said Complaints. [Dkt. #33, p.7.] To date, Turnbull has not pled any alleged facts sufficient to support his claims – much less to show he has standing to bring them.

In contrast, Defendants addressed Turnbull's "exactly the same" representation in their dismissal motions filed on May 5, May 22, May 24, and June 5, 2023, respectively, by pointing to the public record in the district court of each of the pending Disciplinary Actions he has described in his pleadings. Therefore, there was nothing new or surprising in any of the Defendants' reply pleadings that support a finding of good cause or indicate that any exceptional circumstances exist that would warrant allowing Turnbull to file a surresponse. For all these reasons, Turnbull's motion should be DENIED.

III. PRAYER

WHEREFORE, Defendants pray that this Court DENY Turnbull's Motion for Leave to File [Surreponse].
